1. Authorship/contributorship

Each author should have participated sufficiently in the work to take public responsibility for appropriate portions of the content. The order of authorships on the byline is a joint decision of all co-authors. Authors should be prepared to explain the order in which authors are listed. Authorship credits should be based on: (i) substantial contributions to the conception and design, or acquisition of data, or analysis and interpretation of data; (ii) drafting the article or revising it critically for important intellectual content; and (iii) final approval of the version to be published. Authors should meet all the three requirements. All contributors that do not meet the criteria of authorship are mentioned in the acknowledgements.

2. Conflict of interest

Scientists have the ethical obligation to submit credible research results. If the conditions of funding this research have the potential to bias or otherwise discredit the research, the authors must state explicitly whether potential conflicts do or do not exist. The Editor should be advised about any other conflict of interest.

3. Overlapping publications/authenticity

The authors warrant that the material submitted to Journal of Pharmaceutical Research (JPR) is original and has not been published and is not under consideration for publication, whole or in part, in print or electronic format, in any other journal. This manuscript is being considered with the understanding it is submitted on an exclusive basis.

The author will alert the Editor if the manuscript includes subjects about which the authors have published a previous report or have submitted a related report to another publication. Any such report must be referred to and referenced in the new paper.

4. Ethical standards

The authors certify that recommendations to comply with ethical standards when performing clinical and other biological experiments have been adhered to.

5. Editorship/copyright

The authors submit their manuscript to JPR on the understanding that it is subject to editorial review and peer review of at least two independent referees. In the case of contradicting reviews of two referees, the manuscript is sent to a third one and/or subjected to editorial evaluation. Editorial staff reserves the right to make editorial corrections to the manuscript and adjust it to the requirements of the journal. The authors grant to the JPR the right to edit, revise, abridge and condense their manuscript.

In the case that the manuscript should be accepted for publication in JPR (including hard form, electronic form or both) the authors hereby transfer the copyright of the paper to JPR. The authors permit JPR to allow third parties to copy any part of the journal without asking for permission, provided that the reference to the source is given.
